

JOB of the Week

Job name: Accountant

Job description: An accountant provides financial information to management by researching and analysing accounting data; preparing reports and compiling / analysing account information. An accountant documents financial transactions by entering account information into IT systems.

Tasks you will undertake in the job:

- Maintain profit and loss accounts, budgets, cash flow forecasts and other accounting records;
- Produce, collate and report financial information for managers;
- Liaise with clients to ensure that payments are made on time and credit limits are not exceeded;
- Ensure invoices and payments are correct and sent out on time;
- Monitor accounting systems to determine accounts are being maintained effectively and provide information on accounting practices to auditors.

Qualifications you will need for this job:

The AAT qualification is typically the minimum level expected of an accountant, but to progress you'll have to gain the ACCA, ACA or CIMA qualifications. Many accountants will hold a university degree, but this is not essential. You can still get the qualifications you need because professional bodies provide courses for students and workers at all levels. The most popular accountant qualifications include: AAT (Association of Accounting Technicians) accounting courses – (3 qualifications at 3 levels) combining industry knowledge and practical work skills; ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) qualifications (two levels: Fundamentals and Professionals - corporate and business law to audit and assurance); ICAEW (Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales) chartered accountant status (referred to as the ACA – 3-5 years practical work experience and 13 modules) and CIMA (Chartered Institute of Management Accountants) business finance award.
